From Brussels to Liège

Enjoy the Hesbaye region between clear skies, mills and charming farms

This multi day getaway will take you between Brussels and Liège north of the Meuse in the Hesbaye region, known for its agricultural landscapes and wide open horizons. Nicknamed 'Belgium's bread-basket', this pretty rural region, is as poetic as it's open landscape which offers unlimited skylscapes and a mosaic of patchwork fields. Brabant Hesbaye and Liège are characterized by old town centres where traces of their Medieval history are still everywhere: in farms, castles and Romanesque churches..

Start your adventures with Hélécine and its famous castle located in a magnificent 28 hectares park, perfect for walks, picnics, games and barbecues. In the castle grounds, there's a nice brasserie with a riverside terrace to enhance the holiday atmosphere. You can even sample the Château d'Hélécine beer, brewed at the nearby Jandrain-Jandrenouille brewery.

After your castle visit you cross the town of Orp-Jauche - known in particular for 'boudin vert' or 'green pudding'. Then the Hannut plateau will offer you an extensive view over the Walloon farmlands - some of the most monumental of the region. After passing the Hannut region, you will reach the magnificent Geer valley, scattered with large meadows dotted with poplars and willows. The Geer is one of the main tributaries on the left bank of the Meuse, meandering to the marvelous Moulin Castral of Hologne-Sur-Geer (Windmill). This beautiful route is punctuated by several nature reserves such as 'Paradise in Orp-le-Petit' or 'Haut-Geer'.

The regions low relief landscapes easily accessible at all levels create a relaxing and enjoyable route with unexpected surprises along the way.

What's the concept of this slow tourism route?

It's a combination of train journeys and sections to be taken on foot or by bike. The different stages proposed are in accordance with the accommodation and sights suggested in this route. The sections can of course be combined with the train depending on the desired pace. Stations are available at pretty much every section.

Our tips for travelling more easily by train

- Buy your tickets via the app, ticket offices or vending machines.
If you travel by bicycle, don't forget that you will need to buy a ticket for each bike (4€ per trip).
On the vending machine the bike ticket is in 'supplement'.
Folding bikes travel free.
- Arrive early to have time to settle with your bike. Small stations are usually relatively well suited for transporting a bicycle from platform to the other. In the largest stations, traveling with a bicycle is more complex and requires a little more time.
- Wheel your bike by hand in the station, on the platforms and on the train.
- Speak to the train conductor before boarding: he will tell you, (often with a smile), if there are still places available and in which part of the train they are. More and more trains are equipped with a pictogram indicating the location of the compartment/space dedicated to bicycles.
- Remove your bags and do not place your bike against a toilet or in front of an access door.
- Bring a lock: you will be able to travel sitting down even if there is no space next to your bike.
- Travel outside peak hours, this will allow you more a more comfortable journey on the go.
- Anticipate getting off in advance this will save you stress and make it easier for other travelers to get off.
- 'Bruxelles-Central', 'Bruxelles-Chapelle' and 'Bruxelles-Congrès' (Station) are prohibited for bicycles.
- Choose accommodation that has bed and bath linen and offers you a solution for breakfast (on site, pastry basket delivery, nearby bakery, etc.), so you can travel light.
- Make sure you can eat where you sleep or in the immediate vicinity. After a day of hiking or cycling, you will not necessarily want to get back in road for your evening meal.

THE « CLÉ VERTE » AND « BIENVENUE VÉLO » LABELS

Clé Verte (or Green Key in English) is an international eco-label that merits tourist establishments for their approaches and their performance in terms of the environment. In concrete terms, establishments with the Clé Verte label have reduced their ecological footprint by limiting their energy and water consumption, as well as their waste production; using more environmentally friendly cleaning products; by offering organic, local, fair trade food products, etc. And this, without the experience or comfort of their customers or their guests being affected. For more information on the label, please consult the website www.green-key.be.

For a cyclist, choosing a « Bienvenue vélo » establishment is opting for a place where it's great to stop, and the hosts are delighted to see you arrive with your bike. Gîtes, bed and breakfasts, hotels... put at your disposal a room to store your bike, repair tools and cleaning equipment, as well as maps and tourist routes. But «Bienvenue vélo» also includes museums, tourist attractions, restaurants and brasseries that welcome you with your 2 wheels with the same pleasure. The "Bienvenue vélo" label is synonymous with services and equipment adapted to cyclists in Wallonia!
